Support Education for Children in Gaza

Miss Farah

@farah.m.srou4

While everything in Gaza turned to be grey, Farah and Tarek draw the colourful future for the kids. With minimal resources and unstable conditions, the work goes smoothly and in full swing..

"I combine education and play for children setting plays are a vital role in providing stability and comfort during difficult times. By integrating games, songs, and playful activities into lessons, I help my students temporarily escape the harsh realities of war while still learning important skills. This approach creates a sense of normalcy, allowing children to focus on their education despite the trauma surrounding them.

I create a positive learning environment for kids by listening carefully to them, encouraging them to ask questions and explore, treating all children with respect and fairness."

Mr Tarek
@ttarekk7

Tarek is a teaching assistant to Miss Farah. He tries to make the children feel comforted and provides small classes to give more attention to the children. He wants to allow them to feel a little of their childhood despite the harsh realities and conditions.

Standing as a testament to the power of education, the makeshift classrooms provides a place where the sound of children learning and laughing can drown the the steady hum of the drones.

Support to this campaign is crucial to provide children with supplies like notebooks, pencils, and other essentials needed for education.

“This is my first time teaching and those kids made me feel that I'm teaching for over 10 years! I really love what I do with them. I give them love and education, and they give me hope❤️”

"In my role as a teacher, I work to guide children and work to support them psychologically and provide them with psychological well-being.

In my role as a teacher, I must provide protection for them in light of the difficult problems faced by the Gaza Strip during the war. [I] work to enhance their abilities and motivate them to persevere and learn despite the challenges of the circumstances.

I work in my role as a teacher in Gaza to be an inspiration and help children overcome challenges with faith in their abilities to achieve academic achievement and success despite the difficulties."

Loai's story:

"Hello, I am Loai. On the morning of October 7, my wife and I woke up to the sounds of explosions and missiles. The smell of gunpowder filled the place. There was a lot of content in it. Then my wife and I were taken out to the west of Gaza City and we sat in a school affiliated with UNRWA. We sat there for a week or more. Then Israel came and after meeting leaflets heading south, my mother and my little brothers were in the south of the Strip. I went out to die for them so that I could know where and where they were located. I told my wife that I would return soon. Then I went by way of Salah al-Din and walked on foot for less than ten kilometers. When I was walking on the road, an explosion occurred. The displaced people were bombed. An explosion occurred on the bridge in the valley leading to southern Lebanon. He complained about 90 martyrs, including women and children. Then I went to Nusairat and stayed there for 6 months. I did not see my mother and brothers because of the communication cut off. After a while, they asked for animals from Nusairat and we were displaced under the heavy bombing. Then he went to Deir al-Balah. After a few months, my wife gave birth to a baby girl in the north of the Gaza Strip. She named her Talia. Now, my daughter is a month old and the difficulties that they require are very difficult. Very much and there are no necessities of life. I hope for your help to be able to provide for my little girl's needs and rebuild my house that was bombed by the occupation planes. Thank you and I hope that you appreciate my situation and the difficult circumstances."

Help the Al-Farra Family Evacuate Gaza

Tarek @ttarekk7

Tarek (22) was in his final year of school to receive a Bachelor's Degree in English Language and Translation in Gaza. Three years into his education, it came to an abrupt halt after the 7th of October in 2023.

Not only did Tarek lose his right to education, but like many other Palestinians, he had lost his home, family workplace, pets, and everything they knew. Due to the ongoing genocide and lack of resources, Tarek and his family are now living in a tent under harsh conditions while prices for basic needs continue to skyrocket.

In their final attempt, Tarek and his family hope to evacuate Gaza and get and get a normal life. Tarek hopes to achieve his dream of completing his studies and revive the life of his family.

Fares

@faress_2005

On July 22, Fares woke up to the sound of the 6 story building across from them being targeted by the IOF. Tarek and Fares started carrying the injured and martyred to transport them to the hospital.

After they finished transporting the injured and the martyrs, Abu Hassan, the owner of the targeted house and a close friend of theirs, asked Fares to help him transport his belongings that were on the second floor of the house. While helping their friend, the homes to both the right and left of the house were bombed. In that moment, Abu Hassan was martyred immediately; Fares was injured, and Tarek managed to escape the targeting.

Fares suffered a compound fracture in his right hand, his right knee and an injury to his middle finger on his right hand due to shrapnel from the missile. The cuts in his tendons on his finger, caused it to become completely immobile. So far, Fares has undergone five operations on his right hand due to the fracture and in all of the operations the bone didn't successfully heal.

While recovering, he urgently needs nutritional food and medication to aid his recovery. Prices are skyrocketing due to the due blockade in Gaza, as well as aid packages being stolen and resold at higher prices. In addition to Tarek and Fares, they also have their Mother, Father, Sister and other brother that they are with.

“If there's anything I'd like people to know, it's that every step in this journey has taught me the value of resilience and patience. What happened on July 22 changed my life in an instant, but it also revealed strength I didn't know I had, and reminded me of the power of support from those around me. I would want others who are going through hard times to know that even in the darkest moments, hope can be found—sometimes in the smallest things, like a kind word, or just making it through one more day.”

Mohammed

@mohammad_ayman2002

“My name is Mohammed, and my family and I are living through the unimaginable. We are 10 people, including my son, young children, and elderly parents, trapped in the north of Gaza, where food is scarce, and our home was destroyed by bombing. The siege has cut us off from help, and we are dying of hunger, with winter approaching fast.

I am injured, and my father, who is 53 years old, has not worked in a long time due to his age and health. My family is full of promise—we have three women and a young man who were studying before the war. But now, they cannot find any job opportunities. I was studying how to maintain refrigerators and washing machines, but with the situation as it is, there is no work available.

We have three children, aged 7, 9, and 10, who desperately need food, clothes, and warmth. Among us, there are sick people who need urgent care. Every day, we wonder how we will survive, as even basic necessities like clean water and food are out of reach. The north of Gaza is a place of devastation and hunger, and the prices of food are skyrocketing, leaving us to starve.”

“This campaign is our plea for help to survive the coming months. The funds raised will go towards providing our family with:

- Immediate food supplies
- Clean drinking water
- Essential clothing, especially for the children and women
- Medication for the sick members of our family
- Basic hygiene essentials

Please help us survive this devastating situation. Your support, no matter how small, will mean the difference between life and death for my family. We are holding onto hope, but we cannot do it alone.

Thank you for your kindness and generosity.”

“Hello, my name is Deeb Al-Zaza... I am a Palestinian living in Gaza City, in northern Gaza specifically: My city was destroyed, my house was destroyed, my business project was destroyed, and I lost a member of my family, who is my older brother, and I could not even say goodbye to him or see him because of his distance from me because I live in northern Gaza and they live, because of their displacement in southern Gaza, in displacement camps.

I have many relatives, and I lost many friends, and I was afflicted by this war of extermination. More than 380 days of war have passed, and I have been away from my family since the first day of the war because they were forced to move to southern Gaza and live in displacement camps... Everything is gone. You can see that I documented these atrocities on my Instagram account. We all feel helpless as we watch the tragic events taking place in our city, despite all that has been lost... Despite waiting helplessly for this genocide to end... I am continuing to raise funds to help me and my people in these difficult times and I humbly ask you to help me feed and shelter my family and all the homeless and helpless people around me. The weather here is getting worse, and my family is living in the open, with a lack of clothes and blankets. We are exhausted, dehydrated, hungry, and cold. We are facing a severe humanitarian crisis. I urgently need your support to help raise funds to rebuild my home and collect humanitarian aid to obtain food, drink, medical aid and shelter tents. Your support means more than just financial assistance, it is a gesture of solidarity and compassion for humanity. Our hearts bleed for our country and the least we can do is pray Supplication, prayer and donation. Our people need us now more than ever!

Please donate and spread this everywhere and may God reward you Everyone With gratitude, Deep Al Zaza ❤️”

It is important to have the power of education, which always provides a path where the inner child is learning and growing. The true reality is that the child is always in the state of the dream.
